MARRIAGE license was yesterday issued to James Connors, aged 35, and Mary S. Nielsen, aged 45, both of Salt Lake. The two were married by Commissioner Dudley. Miss Nielsen who was, is the daughter of the late Soren Nielsen of Ephraim, whose death was so mysterious and thought for a time to have been caused by poison administered by his niece, Mrs. Van Patton.

THE next attraction at the opera house is the grand old time social to be given on Monday evening. Get your basket lunch ready and be at the house by 7:30 o'clock for dancing will commence promptly at that time.

EDITH KARRER'S misfortune will now surely never again be resurrected, but allowed to remain in oblivion and be wholly forgotten, if that be possible. The woman Davis who lured the girl to her den was the other day convicted and will be sentenced to a term of punishment for her crime and now the man Lynch who accomplished Edith's ruin has been convicted by a jury. He will be punished also, and that ought to end the matter, as none others can be punished, and no further good can result from talking about or in any way considering or contemplating the awfully sad affair.

W. N. SCOTT writes THE DISPATCH under yesterday's date giving full particulars of the accident which befell him on J street near the academy last Saturday night, mention of which was made in these columns on Monday. The shock to Mrs. Scott was severe, she falling into the ditch filled with water and mud and with her babe in her arms, the other children falling on top of them. It was not her own bruises and the drenching that hurt her so much as the shock to her nervous system, for she thought for a time that her darling babe had been killed. Undoubtedly the child would have died and more serious results have followed the accident than did had not Mr. Julius Jensen, near whose home the accident happened, taken the family into his cosy rooms and cheering fires and warmed them and gave them every needed attention. The clothes the mother and children wore are ruined. All are recovering slowly. Surely the hoodlums whose insane yelling caused the accident are now ashamed of what they did.

THE board of directors of the territorial insane asylum is in session today. Report of proceedings will appear tomorrow.

BARGAINS in men's, ladies' and children's underwear at Irvine & Barney's.

It is a fact that Provo is fast regaining her old time reputation of being a first-class show town. Good companies now get good houses regularly, while the "snide" companies are allowed to play to empty benches—a divided and pleasing change from conditions last season, when the order of things were frequently reversed. Last night the opera house was packed from pit to dome and along in the afternoon of yesterday a goodly number, including some of the most steady patrons of the house, were obliged to give up the idea of going to the theatre, not being able to get the seats they wanted—they had delayed all too long the purchase of their tickets, thinking, no doubt, that as usual good seats would be plenty, even after the show began. Of course the drawing card was the winsome little Katie Putnam and her very excellent company in the charming comedy drama, "The Little Maverick." As the parts in the play were in good hands, but of course interest, centered in the leading character, Katie herself. She displayed in true and artistic style the traits and eccentricities of the true hearted, petted and spoiled "American citizen," the little girl from Texas. Her fresh and childlike voice in dialogue and song is a rare treat and her grace and life in action upon the stage is a poem. Gus Cohen, the imitable dutchman, was funny. His songs and dances are all up-to-date and his wit seems to flow from him naturally, and is of the very best kind. In the play the big hearted Texas stockman was well portrayed, as was also the true gentleman of European aristocracy, the man with the title only—the serious side of light, and the bright side of life. All in all the play was one of those entertainments that always do one's heart good to witness.

GOLD FIND IN GEORGIA.

Rediscovery of the Mine Worked by De Soto and His Followers 300 Years Ago.

Mr. W. C. Padgett, a sawmill man operating a mill in the mountains north-east of this place, has discovered some interesting relics in the way of stone mortars and other implements. Mr. Padgett secured the services of Professor Clark, an old mining engineer, to prospect the place. In one of the excavations they discovered the spur of a quartz vein, which they went down for a bit. It proved better than they had fancied. They found gold sticking in the quartz in plenty, visible to the naked eye. Professor Clark said:

"It is a valuable find, beyond doubt. I believe it to be the exact spot where De Soto and his followers located and mined for gold 300 years ago. There is every evidence to prove this. The remains of a large fort, the old excavations, some of which have trees growing in them 300 years old, the cooking utensils and the other relics hewn from the solid stone. All this proves conclusively the site of an ancient mine. As to the mineral deposit, there are several well defined veins that are legitimate in every sense, lying a well defined igneous granite foot wall rock and overlying slate top wall running northeast and southwest, dip east southeast."—Elizajay (Ga.) Dispatch.

THE THIRTY YEARS' TRADITION.

The Death of Mr. O'Neill and Defeat of Mr. Holman Saved the Record.

It was fate which defeated Representative Holman. The venerable Indianan essayed to do what no one before him had accomplished. The tradition that limits service in the house of representatives to 30 years will receive increased respect from Mr. Holman's defeat. At the beginning of the present congress Mr. Holman and Mr. O'Neill of Philadelphia had a conversation about this tradition. Mr. O'Neill asked Mr. Holman what he thought of it. Mr. Holman smiled at the man who was "father of the house" and told him he was "father of the house" for half a dozen terms. Mr. O'Neill shook his head and reminded Mr. Holman of the fate that had overtaken Kelley, Randall and others just when it seemed that they were sure to break the record. Mr. Holman afterward told of this conversation and added:

"I guess O'Neill will break the record. He is strong and hearty."

Before the year was out Mr. O'Neill was dead, and the tradition had received one more proof of its world power. Mr. Holman then became "father of the house." Had he been elected this time he would have exceeded the traditional 30 years' limit as soon as he passed the 3d of next March. But he was defeated.

It will be a long time before the tradition will be tested again. With Mr. Holman the last of the members nearing the limit disappears. Mr. Bland goes out of congress with 23 years to his credit. Mr. Cannon of Illinois and Mr. Culberson of Texas will have served 20 years each on the 3d of next March.
